

Northside Healing Space

The Northside Healing Space is a ministry of Liberty Community Church that began in 2007 and a community-driven solution to healing the trauma that exists in North Minneapolis located at 2100 Emerson Avenue North.

Give Online

NHS is rooted in deep community wisdom, ancient healing practices, foundational beliefs of the African American church, and participatory research, specifically around the issue of commercial sexual exploitation and its corrosive connections to enslavement and community. NHS also is grounded in the knowledge that the voices, experience, wisdom, and leadership of those most impacted by sexual exploitation and trauma will show us the path to healing for themselves, their families, and their community.

Musician Biographies

Maire (pronounced Mary) Clement and Davey Harrison met during their musical studies at Lawrence Conservatory in Appleton, Wisconsin. Davey received his Masters of Music in Contemporary Improvisation from the New England Conservatory and Maire received her Masters of Music in classical vocal performance at the University of Louisville.

Davey and Maire are now both professional musicians and private music teachers based in Wisconsin. They perform as an acoustic songwriting duo as The Boston Imposters, lead workshops on songwriting, and other aspects of music, as well as teach private lessons throughout the week online and in person. When they aren't teaching, they are highly entertained by their incredible toddler Alasdair, who is constantly dancing and singing. In April, they welcomed the sweetest new Imposter to the clan, baby Niamh (pronounced Neeve).

Alex Nishibun is in his sixth season as co-Artistic Director and tenor with the award-winning vocal ensemble Cantus. Beyond the stage, he enjoys playing bluegrass mandolin, exploring local parks, and sharing a bottle of wine with friends.

While performing across the nation is a joy, Alex finds his greatest happiness at home with his wife, Jesi, their son, Oliver, and their Boston Terrier, Moose.
