CALL TO WORSHIP

One: Our salvation is from the Lord;

All: God is our refuge in times of trouble.

One: The Lord helps us and rescues us;

All: God saves us because we take refuge in our Lord.

One: Let us worship God.

† Hymn #386

Come, Worship God (vs. 1, 3, 4)

Come, worship God, who is worthy of honor;
enter God's presence with thanks and a song!
You are the rock of your people's salvation to whom our jubilant praises belong.

We are your people, the sheep of your pasture;
you are our Maker, and to you we pray.
Gladly we kneel in obedience before you;
great is the one whom we worship this day!

Now let us listen, for you speak among us;
open our hearts to receive what you say.
Peace be to all who remember your goodness,
trust in your word, and rejoice in your way!

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

Sheila Sheldon, CRE

Merciful God, you have commanded us to love you above all and to have no other gods. You have called us to love others as you love them. But we are personally and socially deformed by the love of other gods — the false gods of prosperity and materialism, privilege, and exclusivity. Forgive us our sins and transform us by your Spirit so that we might learn to love as you love and live as people baptized as your own children. Amen.

MOMENT OF SILENT REFLECTION

ASSURANCE OF FORGIVENESS

Pastor: Friends believe the Good News of the Gospel.

All: In Jesus Christ we are forgiven. Thanks be to God.

Spirit of the Living God

Spirit of the living God, fall afresh on me.
Spirit of the living God, fall afresh on me.
Melt me; mold me; fill me; use me.
Spirit of the living God, fall afresh on me.

RESPONDING TO THE WORD

† Hymn #773

Heaven Shall Not Wait

Heaven shall not wait for the poor to lose their patience,
the scorned to smile, the despised to find a friend:
Jesus is Lord; he has championed the unwanted;
in him injustice confronts its timely end.

Heaven shall not wait for the rich to share their fortunes, the proud to fall, the elite to tend the least:
Jesus is Lord; he has shown the master's privilege:
to kneel and wash servants' feet before they feast.

Heaven shall not wait for the dawn of great ideas,
thoughts of compassion divorced from cries of pain:
Jesus is Lord; he has married word and action;
his cross and company make his purpose plain.

Heaven shall not wait for triumphant Hallelujahs,
when earth has passed and we reach another shore:
Jesus is Lord in our present imperfection;
his power and love are for now and then for evermore.

PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen.

PRAYER OF DEDICATION

O God, may our gifts be used as a witness to your love, peace and justice at work in the world, renewing the face of the earth. Amen.

SENDING US OUT

† Hymn #372

O for a World

O for a world where everyone respects each other's ways, where love is lived and all is done with justice and with praise.

O for a world where goods are shared and misery relieved, where truth is spoken, children spared, equality achieved.

We welcome one world family and struggle with each choice that opens us to unity and gives our vision voice.

The poor are rich; the weak are strong; the foolish ones are wise.
Tell all who mourn: outcasts belong, who perishes will rise.

O for a world preparing for God's glorious reign of peace,
where time and tears will be no more, and all but love will cease.

A Letter from Rev. John McCall

Mission co-worker serving in Taiwan

The Road of Grace

Dear friends,

In 1996, I left Black Mountain, N.C. and the Black Mountain Presbyterian Church, where I was serving as their pastor, to board a plane to Taiwan. I had never been to Taiwan but knew that God was calling me to this unseen land to serve as a Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) mission co-worker with the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan. I felt somewhat like Abraham and Sarah of the Old Testament when God told them to go to a land that they had not yet seen.

As I began my new life here, I started full-time Mandarin language study and also began to learn a new culture. Language can be taught. Culture must be observed. I had never lived in a big city like Taipei. In many ways, I felt like a child who didn't know how to express in Mandarin what I wanted to say and often didn't get the cultural cues.

But God was faithful, and the Taiwanese people have been amazingly kind and patient with me over the years. Every day I was given a list of 30 new vocabulary words in Mandarin and the next day, I would have to show up in class and tell my teacher a story using the new vocabulary. So, after class, I would find a stranger on the bus and ask them if they would like to hear a story. They became my teachers.

After language school, I was sent to the rural part of southeastern Taiwan to work with the indigenous people who live there. Each week I spoke three or four times in children's Sunday School, or youth group, or preached in their churches on Sunday morning. Church leaders translated my Mandarin into their indigenous languages, which was a wonderful way for my language to improve, because if the translator didn't understand what I was saying, he or she would let me know.

During my first week in the new city of Taidong, the owner of a radio station asked me if I would like to have my own radio program. I told her that my Mandarin was not yet ready for a radio show, and she replied by telling me to trust God. So, every week I spent one day preparing my program. I used things that were happening in that area and connected them to a biblical teaching. If it was mango season, I would talk about the fruit of the Spirit. If the high school seniors were taking their college entrance exams, I would talk about the wisdom of God. But because I had just completed my language study and was not overly fluent, I didn't think anyone listened to my program.

But one Monday morning I took my car to get serviced. The young man who was going to work on my car was not a Christian, but he noticed my Mandarin name. (I never use my English name here.) And he told me that he listened to my radio program the night before. I was really surprised. He then told me that he and his friends all liked my show. Then I asked him a dangerous question. "Why?" His answer was not the one I wanted to hear. He said, "We love your unique accent." And standing in that car repair shop, God said to me, "Don't worry about your accent. I will use your accent to help folks know that they are loved."

So, from that time on, I have not worried about my limitations but instead have focused on God's abundant grace. And these years in Taiwan have been beautiful years of grace.

I am a very different person because of the people of this land. Their kindness, their love, and their daily welcome have shaped me deeply. I have learned most from the people on the margins. I have had the privilege of accompanying hundreds of seminary students and pastors. I learned how to pastor pastors when I was in Black Mountain as a young pastor and had 50 retired pastors and their spouses in that congregation. That experience allowed me to become a pastor to pastors here.

I have also been changed by the indigenous folks of this island. They have taught me about resilient faith in the face of life's challenges. They have demonstrated community as they have welcomed me into their villages, their churches, and their homes. They have given me an indigenous name, "Lafin," which means the one who comes to stay with us. I have laughed with them and cried with them.

It has been a road of grace these past 29 years. And you, who have supported this ministry with your faithful prayers and gifts have been signs of grace to me. You have welcomed me into your homes and churches when I have been on interpretation throughout the U.S. And you have been open to how the world church can teach and change us.

So, as I end my time of service as a PC(USA) mission co-worker, I want to thank you for your partnership on this road of grace.

Gratefully,
John McCall
